

Analysing data

A training course specifically developed for school Senior Leaders and Data managers who need to improve their knowledge and strategy of data analysis in GO 4 Schools.

Quality assurance of accurate data and enabling you to support school improvement by identifying patterns and trends and monitoring the effectiveness of interventions.

Course Details:

This course is designed to enable the school strategic lead, aspiring middle leaders or Data managers responsible for the daily management of GO 4 Schools to review the set up and consider the quality of the data for analysis by a range of stakeholders. Key points discuss the school approach to recording and embedding a school-wide understanding of assessment data and building knowledge of using our analysis tools to directly impact student outcomes.

Key aspects covered:

- Student attributes – set up and using for analysis of key focus groups
- Key statistics and headline performance measures using analysis tools
- Curriculum overview and analysis tools for reviewing the quality of education impact
- Subject statistics and in-year tracking to support interventions and gaps in learning
- Using interactive ribbons effectively for Year groups, subjects and key focus groups
- Using Data Explorers for more detailed analysis and sharing with key staff
- Using charts for pivot tables and scatter charts for more forensic analysis
- Generating snapshots of reports to analyse progress over time and cumulative data.

Building knowledge will help set up high quality data views for analysis for all staff at all levels, embedding the use of data to support school improvement and engagement. No need to print out data reports and more time to validate the accuracy of the data produced. During the online course there is some time for delegates to discuss their approaches.

The course content should allow for developing key action plans for change and sharing ideas of how you are using GO 4 Schools.
